

SCENTS OF PLACE

For 25 years, Molton Brown's signature fragrances have been creating evocative memories for guests of the world's finest hotels

There is nothing like a scent to transport one back to moment or place in time. That perfume of roses that reminds you of a romantic weekend in the country; the aroma of jasmine that transports back to your Thai-island honeymoon... Even the subtlest of fragrances, from somewhere or someone special, will lodge indelibly in our memories.

Creating such sensorial moments is the signature of Molton Brown, whose collection of vibrant fragrances, bath and shower gels, home and handcare luxuries have claimed iconic status since their creation in 1973. Crafted by some of the world's best perfumers and intricately blended in England using carefully sourced ingredients from around the world, Molton Brown's bold scents are both indulgent and memorable.
