16 SERPENS TRAIL

Stone meets wood and home meets mountain. This new construction home fronts Pioneer, Lone Peak and Cedar Mountains and has immediate ski access to the Andesite Ridge and River Crossing lifts in one of Yellowstone Club's most desired locations. A blend of windows bring jaw-dropping views inside, as well as stone and wood that match the mountains themselves. Located on a 1.77-acre lot that abuts open space, this home is 7,669 square feet of modern yet classic Big Sky, Montana. Five bedrooms, plus a bunk room, as well as six bathrooms and two powder rooms provide ample space for you and your family and friends. Four levels of home mean plenty of privacy, even when the laughter of your guests fills the home.

The master suite, bath, balcony, office and walk-in closet comprise the upper fourth floor. The layout of the main floor allows you to cook gourmet meals in the kitchen while conversing with your dining room guests. During the summer, you'll be able to entertain family and guests on the patio while listening to the peaceful, quiet sounds of an evening in Montana. This home's design, with a ski room and a mudroom adjacent to a three-car garage, accommodates every Big Sky activity. Below, three more bedrooms provide space for friends and family, along with a recreational family room and easy access to the home's outdoor living space, which includes a fire pit. The lower level also includes a wine storage room and flexible space for more Montana-style living. Big Sky Ridge is the ideal location for privacy and space, and only a short drive or ski separates members and guests from all base area amenities.
