YELLOWSTONE CLUB

INTERIOR PERSPECTIVE

- AMERICAN SPIRIT 874 -

The much-coveted American Spirit area of the Yellowstone Club is loved for a reason: with its unrivalled mountain views, incredible walkability, and neighborly feel, owning a home in this part of the Yellowstone Club turns any trip to Montana into an unforgettable memory. Custom Residence 874 is one of the few single-family residences in Phase III of American Spirit. This home features amazing front-row views of Lone Peak; from its location on North Cabin Road, it's mere steps from the Rainbow Lodge and its plentiful amenities, including fine dining, spa facilities, and the unique copper pool. A short drive or ski down the hill leads to the full offerings of the base area: concierge services, youth recreation, shopping, and more.

With spacious accommodations across three levels, American Spirit 874 is destined to become the favorite family getaway. The home's main level is truly the main event; the term "great room" may not go far enough to describe this space. With its peaked windows that mirror the classic outline of Lone Peak, the mountain truly fills the home, rooting it in this unforgettable setting. The main level also features the spacious kitchen, sure to please the gourmet home cook, plus dining space that opens to the covered patio. The master suite includes its own private patio, large closet, and private, lockable storage. A dedicated ski room off the garage has several lockers and its own patio to make the pursuit of powder even easier.

The remaining two levels create abundant space for gatherings. On the upper level, the junior master and guest suite offer a quiet and relaxing atmosphere complete with seating nook, view-framing windows, and fireplace in the junior master. On the lower level, find two additional guest suites and bunk room, each with their own bathroom. In addition to the family room, game room, and bar, this level also features the custom home theater, designed to maximize audio quality and viewing pleasure. The lower level patio opens to the hot tub and fire pit, where guests will delight in evenings under the presence of mountains. This is truly an awe-inspiring setting and perfectly captures all that makes the Yellowstone Club so unique.
